

International Recommendations for Water Statistics

International Recommendations for Water Statistics (IRWS) provides coherent principles, concepts and definitions for the collection and compilation of water statistics on a comparable basis. IRWS constitutes the first publication of international recommendations in the field of environment statistics and joins a family of international recommendations published by the United Nations Statistics Division.

IRWS is designed to assist all countries in the establishment and strengthening of a multipurpose information system for water in support of integrated water resources management.

Custom Fields

- INTERNATIONAL DEVELOPMENT PARTNERS: United Nations Statistics Department - UNSD

Online URL: <https://ecistar.org/kb/article.php?id=104>